

THE BOOK OF THE MONKS

Written by Senhor do Pau Torto (Mr. Crooked Cock)

Translated by RichardsDick with Google Translate

Edited by DaHornedGuy

This book was written with a hard cock, pulsing, masturbated and shaking. HIS head is bulging, swollen, and red like a chili pepper; my cock looks like a mushroom. With my dick drooling, this book was written so many brothers may awaken their cocks and join the masturbatory life. The content of this book is freely shared so that the bator culture may expand more easily throughout the world. But give credit to Lord of the Dead Crooked Cock. That is the phallic name of the Master who wrote this collection.

Ave Penis!!!

Hail Cock!

Pull your cock out; open your legs; breathe deeply while admiring of your Phallus; inhale the fragrance that exudes from it and masturbate sensuously; feel every sensation from your throbbing cock.

Your balls will swell after days of masturbating without ejaculating.

The size of your cock will double in thickness. Your head will turn red like a pepper and you will only enjoy it when the penis allows.

And the cock will throb daily, standing erect in your underwear, jumping out of your pants all the time and you will satisfy HIS desires with joy and pleasure.

Motivational

Extend your hand before your cock as if asking for something. Let it give you the result of hours of friction and horniness: the sacred sperm, the semen, the thick, gooey, fragrant, white and vicious-clear nectar. Feel the power of this hot fucking fuck in your hands. Observe and take notice of what the thick, stinky, macho, big-headed, full-bodied, and bearded fist-fucking has produced. It was hours of work, jacking, moaning, howling, and sweating hard.

The COCK will ask you to ejaculate and you will resist. The cock will drool, and you will moan. It will squirm. You will take the crystalline precum and eat and eat again, killing your hunger for sex. By then you will reek of cock from pheromones perspired by your sweat. The cock will feel like it will explode, and it is at that point that that you have achieved the Goon. The deepest Goon you have ever experienced.

Get totally lost in Phallus. Yes, Phallus! Your penis will take the form of a juicy Erect Phallus, ready to lead you into an extreme Goon state and intense sexual ecstasy that will never end. Your eyes will flutter, your mouth will foam and drool. You will make strange noises. Like a beast, you will edge your Phallus in a frantic and constant back and forth motion. It will not be you anymore and at the same time it will be you. The Phallus will masturbate your mind and fed on your desires. You will masturbate your Phallus and will become completely absorbed by the Phallus. Your nipples will be hard as stone. You will be on fire. The fire of pleasure. And with one hand you will squeeze, twist, pull, and masturbate. The balls will make their contribution. They are filled with white cum, sack milk, human protein, sacred nectar, honey, and food. Heavy, they will double in size. Boiling they will pulse like the heart. Your flabby bag will sweat like a fountain and exhale the scent from your crotch. You will gasp and glance your Phallus as it gives you its reward.

The fist-fuck will be flowing, and you will howl. Whoever thinks he will be using the Phallus will eventually be used by the Phallus. But it will be worth it. Phallus gives of his food; the fruit of all that work. You will taste it and taste it again. You will eat from that hungry fuck you made yourself. Eat my son!

If you do not know how to serve cock, you will not be rewarded by cock. Sleepy and naked, fist-fucking your dry hand as you wake up, you realize you were asleep, realizing it was only you. Your cock remained hard while you slept and now you wake at dawn for another session.

Original Portuguese text written by
Senhor do Pau Torto

Does this sound familiar?

Every morning when I wake up, I uncover my PENIS and I masturbate. I crave touching my PENIS. I cannot start my day without caressing that warm rod of flesh with my hands. Every day I do it. I wake up every morning and give thanks for being a man and admiring and worshiping my PENIS. Days when my PENIS is hard, I know I will be especially blessed that day.

I've known since my youth that my PENIS was important, but it is only as a man that I realize the sacred importance PENIS has in my life. Since I became a man, my mind was opened to the realization that I cannot stop worshiping my PENIS. I embrace my love and lust for my PENIS with pride! I cannot even go any period of time without acknowledging my PENIS and masturbating. I am fooling myself if I believe I have stopped my mind's focus on PENIS. I am deceiving myself if I ever think that I have control of my PENIS, for I do not. PENIS controls me. The truth is I cannot stop. The truth is I do not want to stop.

Even if I'm dating someone, I always find a time and place for masturbation. When I masturbate, it does not take long before bathing becomes my sacred prayer to the Phallic Brotherhood. It does not take long before the ordinary act of masturbation takes on sacred meaning as my meditation and offering to the divine masculine PENIS. Bate is my life. It's been an important part of my life for a very long time, and I am humbled and happy that I can acknowledge the place my PENIS holds in my life.

There was a time in my life when I didn't realize how important the sacred phallus was to me. I am thankful that is no longer true. My heart and my legs are open wide to the love and lust that PENIS brings to my daily life. I have truly accepted that the fundamental truth: I'm a Cock Worshiper!

I like to masturbate my dick for hours, absorbed by pornography, talking about sex and focusing on cock. Sometimes, when I was younger, I would try to play the moralist and say no to porn. But it never lasts. When I have time to myself, I give into my lust. I think about cock and cum, not telling anyone else. Anyone who could see me in this state of worship would either be scared or envious at the sight of my lust. If you are scared, be glad you cannot read my Gooner thoughts. Yes! I'm a wanker, a masturbator, a servant of Cock!

The internet has only deepened my lust for cock. My cock-focused friends and I are always sharing images of cock through messages on our phones. I subscribe to numerous groups on Facebook, WhatsApp, and other social media sites where I can exchange pictures of cock. I have sent countless nudes photos men and cock. I have come to accept that my life revolves around porn and I am obsessed with thoughts of the mighty Phallus!

I can stare at my cock and watch its pulse for hours. I relish the feeling as the blood pressure makes the shaft stiffen and the tip of my cock flare. The sensation is almost as though my cock-head will burst! My ball sack is heavy, sweating and stinking of my heady male scent. I know the aroma! It is me and I like it. I focus on edging my cock and test my limits with every bate session. Can I edge longer than the last time before I shoot a glorious load of sperm? My cock craves more attention. I serve my cock. Maybe I can last longer, but the desire to ejaculate and feel the glorious load of hot sperm on my naked body is consuming my soul with greater intensity with each stroke. I like to train and see just how far I can take my bate. I routinely spend four hours jacking my cock without cumming, but the goal is to go longer and longer so that the bate consumes my entire day.

As a young man, I was ashamed and afraid of my masturbation. Christian guilt dominated me. Everything about my cock was associated with the devil. As I grew older, my fear of my cock's central place in my life grew stronger and stronger. I fought the lust in my soul, but the fight was in vain. As a man who accepts cock in his life, I have realized that resisting the power of cock is futile. There is no turning back. This is not my fault. The precedent for men is undeniable. For years we are socialized in subtle ways with the habit of playing with our cocks. We discuss our cocks. We adjust our cocks. We taunt and tease each other as young men and boys about our cocks. We reveal our cocks to each other in public showers, we expose our cocks to friends and strangers after sports like swimming and football. Social nudity can be experienced in many places and this self-discovery of cock begins with the awakening of masculinity at puberty.

I realize that I was already prepared for this life as a masturbator. Experiences from my youth through adulthood prepared me for a life as a constant masturbator. Without realizing how these experiences would shape me, I was being prepared for this lifetime philosophy as a masturbator. Many aspects of everyday life prepared me to follow this path: Society prepared me. Programs at school prepared me. Sports and games prepared me. All of those unrelated experiences have ultimately stimulated me to this life as a masturbator. To manage the stress of school life, I learned how to use masturbation to cope. I carried this knowledge into my work life and masturbate to cope with stress on the job. I learned how to cope with all stress in my life through masturbation. Stress and negative influences in my life were not the only life events that led me to bathe. I celebrated my admission to college through masturbation. I masturbated when I was hired for a new job. Most all of my life experiences have involved jerking my cock. My friends advised me to masturbate.

So while I didn't recognize it for many years, I see it now: I am a wanker, a masturbator, a fucking jacker, a gooner. Cock is my life. My passion for jacking off goes beyond understanding. I do not sleep without spending time with my cock first. I am proud of my hard cock. After lunch I rub one out. When I take a shower, I celebrate with my hard cock. After taking a shit in a public toilet, my cock demands attention so other men can hear me celebrate my cock. Whenever and wherever possible, I have my shaft in my hand. This is the only accept condition for my life. I'm a masturbator! Does this sound familiar? Yes?! This describes your life too! You, like me, are like that too!

As you read this text, has your cock stiffened and your focus on cock intensified? I would even risk guessing that your dick is now drooling and horny. This lust is inside you. It is part of your DNA. You inherited it from your ancestors, and you will convey this to your progeny and brotherhood. There is no escape from the power of Cock, and you like this. All that remains is for you to accept that!

Cock is central to your life just as I have. Pull your cock out now and celebrate your dick with masturbation. Even if you only have a few minutes, jerk your cock to celebrate. It will leave your hand as a fucking luscious reminder of your masculine power. Celebrate your dick by moaning loudly to express your horniness. You are and always will be a masturbator! What you need now is to perfect your worship. Deepen yourself, acquire knowledge, become a master and begin your journey in the world of masturbation. Make the jackhammer a philosophy of life that will only benefit you. You are not sick. In fact, it is quite the contrary. You are healing the harm caused by denying your true nature. Embrace your bate to erase the marks of prejudice, hypocrisy and false morality against masturbation. Let your soul give way to being a new man. A tough-man ready to enjoy and be enjoyed by the cock. Give yourself to this life. Surrender to cock. Live masturbation as a philosophy of life. Now you know who you are! Just masturbate! Feel free!!!!

Table of Contents

Motivational.....	1	The non-interrupt state.	11
Does this sound familiar?.....	1	Bliss: the post-goon effect. 48 hours
Penis Manifesto	3	impregnated.	11
The Invisible Order - Part 1.....	3	Impregnation.....	11
The Invisible Order - Part 2.....	4	Phallica Intoxication	12
The Invisible Order - Part 3	4	Detoxification	12
Our spikes are interconnected.....	4	Desires and impulses.....	12
The future	5	Stay Peeled! - Nudism at home	13
The big secret	5	The primitive animal instinct.	13
The Tribute	5	The power of masturbation	13
The Temple	5	Every man masturbates	14
The Great Phallus - The phallic figure.....	6	Phallic energy.....	14
The complement.....	7	The phallic mind.....	15
The Egrégora	7	The expansion of consciousness	15
Forms-Thoughts	8	The purity of the source.....	16
The role of each	8	Training the mind by piroca.....	17
Edge - Extending the boundaries.....	8	Removing the walls	17
Goon.....	9	Take off the weight.	18
The goon journey	9	Using Goon to attract what you want.	18
Negalismo - The puntata never ends.....	9	Generate, Build, Materialize.....	18
21 days denied for the transformation of being.....	10	Empty your mind.....	19
All are important.....	10	Goon cleanses the mind	19

Meditation Masturbation	19
Absorption of mythical figures.....	20
The satyrs	20
Cernunnos - The Ant	20
Bread	20
Priapo.....	21
Dionysus - god Bacchus - Bacchanal	21
Shiva	21
The horns.....	21
White goo is your reflection.....	22
Keeping the Sun / Planting the Sun	23
I am a penis. I am my penis. I am one.....	23
We are kings	24
Resisting is in vain - Surrender, surrender, confess	24
Choosing Your Phallic Name	25
Admire the beauty of other spades.....	25
Fire and kundalini	25
Perversion, Fury, the Black Penis and Black Magicians	26
Lust is essential	26
The three-headed penis.....	27
Alchemy Phallica.....	27
The Phallic Veneration.....	28
We are sexual	28
We Are Sexual - Part 2 Exploring the Prostate	29
Today I	29
Conservatives - Useful idiots	29
We are a legion	30
Thoughts	30
Reboot for Masturbators	31

Penis Manifesto

1. We believe in the concept of the Great Erect Phallus as the fruit of the mental creation of all masturbators. A mental force resulting from the thought frequency of all masturbators.
2. Each man is free to experience the Great Erect Phallus unique to his own truth, as long as it does not interfere with the masturbation and life his brothers. No one is obligated to another man's truth.
3. The personal beliefs of each masturbator must be respected.
4. We believe in masturbatory practice as a lifestyle and philosophy of life.
5. We believe in the Sacred Masculine.
6. We believe in the forces of nature, in the preservation and maintenance of nature.
7. We are progressives by consequence and support progressive patterns and movements. As the promotion of equality, freedom and fraternity, in order to create a more advanced and advanced world.
8. We see in the penis a living organism. The penis is central to each of us and we are the penis.
9. We find in the penis a vital energy generator.
10. We believe in phallic alchemy and its egregora¹. That focus on the cock through masturbation awakens all the potentialities of the penis.
11. We have Goon, sexual Nirvana and bliss as collective goals. However, each has its individual goal within the masturbatory practices and these goals must always be for good.
12. Through masturbation we have a path of mental, physical and spiritual development.

13. All men are unified by the sacred penis, and whether believers in the power of masturbation or not, all men are connected and interconnected by their cocks. We are brothers and so we must help and support each other.

14. Once a masturbator, always a masturbator.

15. We will always keep our sacred penis hard and masturbated. Our minds will be focused on the Goon and in pursuit of multiple orgasms.

16. We dislike and reject the perverted, maniacal and sexually ill.

The Invisible Order - Part 1

The Order of the Great Phallus Eretu is not a universal physical Order. The Great Phallus Erecto has no thirst, no meetings. The Order is born within each of us manifest in our penis. That is why The Order can grow so fast. The Order is born in the idea, thought and masturbatory practice of all men as a way of life and a philosophy. When men who have never seen each other, stumble across the streets and meet for the first time, they talk and discover they share the same interests and ideas, the masculine bond will strengthen. The Order of the Great Phallus Eretu celebrates masculinity and the union among men. The fact that every man has a cock unites us. Our cocks are interconnected and connected. So, the Order is each of us and the penis is its seat. Your temple. The place where we celebrate life. The evolution of cock thought.

When it all began, masturbation was seen as something bad, degenerate, destructive. The first masturbators heavily influenced by Puritan ideas and saw themselves as sick, vitiated, and so on. But as the thinking about masturbatory practice evolved, they realized that none of this was true. They grew to understand that masturbation could be viewed as a healthy and progressive lifestyle. Over time this thinking has evolved and every day more men understand this erotic practice is expanding and bringing with it new understanding in the psychic entity made up of, and influencing, the thoughts of a group of people.

¹ Egregore is an occult concept representing a "thoughtform" or "collective group mind", an autonomous

collective consciousness of the divine masculine. Today, masturbation as a philosophy of life. Masturbation encompasses a wide range of knowledge from Western ideals of sexual freedom to the tantric practices of the East. Thus, cock thought leaves obscurity and gives way to the light of understanding and a better way of living. It is life without guilt and without fear. It also seems reasonable that our understanding of cock and the relationship men share with the Great Phallus Erecto will evolve to adapt to the social context of the time; however, the power of cock and the importance of the sacred masculine will never be diminished.

The Invisible Order - Part 2

The Order of the Great Phallus Erecto is not a physical Order, has no thirst, no meetings. It is born within each of us manifested in our penis. That is why it expands much faster. The Order is born in the idea, the thought and the masturbatory practice as a way of life and philosophy. And when men who have never seen each other before, stumble across the street and talk and discover they share the same interests and ideas, the male bond strengthens. The Order of the Great Phallus Erecto celebrates masculinity and union among men. The fact that every man has a cock unites all of us. Our cocks are interconnected and connected. So, the Order is comprised of each of us and the penis is its seat. Cock is your temple. The place where we celebrate life.

The Invisible Order - Part 3

Every man contributes to the great system that has been formed around the world. The divine masculine is made of men of different types, different cultures, different tastes and different preferences. There is an invisible order in the world that binds all men together through lust to service of the GodCock. This call to worship cock is activated every time a man pulls his cock out and masturbates. Each time he touches his cock and surrenders to the power of the penis a man enters into worship and celebrates the divine masculine as our highest call to service.

This invisible order is constantly strengthened, since universal masturbation does not cease. There will always be a man masturbating. The multiplicity of hard cock across the earth is incredible. Every man contributes to this order of phallic energy. Pornography, sexual songs, sexual news, and erotic artists all contribute to the spirit of the phallus. Even hypocrites, puritans and fakes moralists, who with their speech of fear and condemnation, arouse curiosity on the subject and bring new men into consciousness of the GodCock. It is unavoidable, everyone contributes to the great order of the Phallic Erecto whether it be willingly or unwillingly.

This is why it does not take much effort for the Order to grow as a universal truth. Everyone is already working for the order. Every time you talk about sex with your friends, you share the order. Every time you confidently share a story about your cock you are promoting freedom to express the importance of the phallus. You make everyone around you feel good about you and help them become more comfortable with themselves. Be a good man. Be a friend to all men. Through this, you will become well connected, and occupy strategic positions of social influence. This will result in a well-resolved and stronger society.

The truth is that the fabric of society is woven around the penis. The naked truth is the basis of society is the penis. Men and women always find a way to insert the penis in the social context, whether they mean to do so directly or indirectly.

The invisible order joins with other orders forming a great system for the good of humanity. Help build a new order in the world focused on the power of cock.

Our Cocks are Interconnected

Each time men masturbate together, we become siblings through cock. The community of penis creates a bond among men, connecting all men and elevating our collective consciousness. This act of communal masturbation forms the spiritual Great Hard Phallus. Each throbbing pulse of the hard cock creates a field of vibration which will be felt by his brothers. The bate will release the phallic essence, the aroma of male scent that will fill the space and create a protective field around the masturbator. Our phallic souls are so intertwined that if one of us jacks another, the other men present will feel a tingle in the head of his cock and will have an uncontrollable desire to jack too. The pirouette of every masturbator is understood as a living organism felt throughout every cock around the world. That delicious sound of fap-fap-fap plays in our minds as a hypnotic mantra.

The future

We hope that in the future there will be men better resolved with themselves and with the world. Men are firmer of themselves and more united with the world. That all the barriers imposed to control, block and prevent sexuality from being clarified are removed. Let man climb one step further on his evolutionary ladder and through the peace of a good orgasm he also seeks peace in the world, leaving aside wars, prejudices and hatred. Let men understand that they are the same through what they carry between their legs and that they are interconnected by him regardless of sexuality and that also why nobody is better than anyone else. For a world of more acceptance.

The big secret

The penis is the most mysterious organ of the human being, more controversial and more beneficial. Those who venture into the waters of knowledge of the penis will find an ocean of answers and benefits. The penis defies us at all times and often reprimand us, but those who understand that this fear only reaches the opportunists and cowards in order to remove them from the blessings of the penis, can open the door of the phallic way. Those who decide to walk the path of the penis, will enter an endless phallic journey. Who will take the risk?

The Tribute

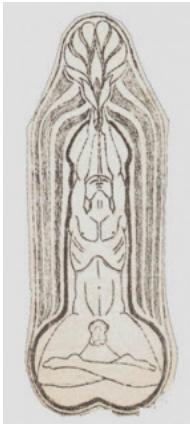

Your penis is your tribute, your trophy. When the masturbator presents his penis to others he shows off all his glittering power. The balls, the stalk, the head exposed and rolled up, all emitting great pleasure and horny It is good to share our penis with other brothers in order to bless them.

Your penis is your tribute. When we touch that hot pussy, we rub our cock and it lights the light of pleasure and envelops us, lifting us to the Goon, where we drool, moan and whisper. This is the signal that the penis is connected and synchronized to our mind. And it is also a sign of the love between man and his penis, penis and man. The tribute should not be kept, everyone needs to see it, encouraging and encouraging other brothers to continue masturbating, as in an endless stream of fucking punters. Each contributes to this current with its tributes. So masturbate constantly, keeping the phallic energy always high and with quality. Your pleasure can be felt by other masturbators and you feel the pleasure of your brothers. We are all connected by the penis.

The Temple

The temple is the place of contact between man and what he considers important to him. Temples are some of the oldest buildings constructed by mankind. The temple is where man expresses his nature and celebrates his beliefs. The temple is more than a place of worship. The temple is also a place where man can feel contact and connection with others who share his beliefs. The temple is also a place to search for knowledge. In the East temples are used as universities and study centers.

The temple serves many purposes. The temple is also a place to feel absorbed in love, to feel a connection with your brothers, and a place to bond over shared beliefs and practice the rituals of worship.

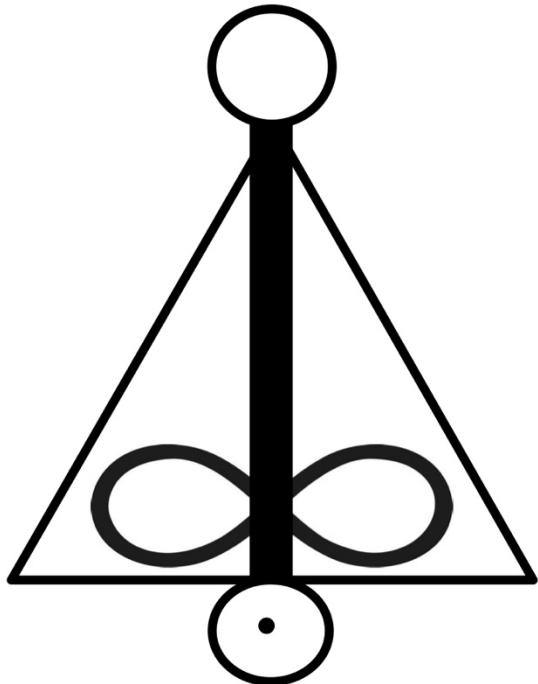

The temple is the masturbator's penis. In the temple you will seek to connect with your inner-self and acquire a deeper understanding of your connection to the divine masculine. In the temple all of us connect to the Great Erect Phallus and the Sacred Masculine. With your legs spread wide, the temple doors are open for you to focus on your cock. Follow this path: devote yourself to extended periods of masturbation and you will dive deeply into the Goon. When your legs are spread wide, representing the open temple doors for worship, you willingly expose yourself to other worshipers so they may see the beauty of the hard, veiny, pulsing, erect phallus. As you worship, the cock and balls will exhale the sweaty, heady, musky scent of masculinity. Breathe in this aroma. Let the scent flood your mind as you masturbate. You will feel a tingling throughout your body that radiates from your dick and your mind will be solely focused on the worship of the phallus.

In the temple, all ritual and phallic alchemy are performed in order to achieve growth and development.

We enter the temple every time we masturbate. This is the phallic symbology. The temple is the point of contact with your sacred center, with your true nature, with your instincts and desires. When you enter the temple your mind and spirit are in harmony and you understand the teachings of the Phallus more easily. The Phallus will relax your mind and body; it removes away the tensions of the outside world so when we return to the profane world we are recharged. We receive the welcome daily burden of service to cock at the temple. We receive the vital masculine energy while we worship at the temple. We reconnect with our brotherhood and realign our sacred-selves to the greater purpose of Priapus. Worship at the temple and strengthen your cock. Masturbate and serve the masculine GodCock.

When two or more men gather and open their temples to masturbate, a great force is created that connects all the divine power of all penises throughout time. Cock power emanates from all men before them, all men around them, and all men that will come after them, for without the sacred sperm, there were, nor will be other men. The temple-penis points upwards like an arrow, which allows you to capture all the energy of the universe. The erect penis is like an antenna drawing energy from the universe and amplifying our masculine vibration for all men.

Open the temple doors and let it work.

The Great Phallus - The phallic figure

The Great Phallus is the mental creation of all masturbators. This mental creation has the form that the masturbator's mind most has affinity. In this way, the Great Phallus is the image of the masturbator. The constant exercise of visualization and constant entrance into the state of goon makes the image of the Great Phallus clearer. For me, the Great Phallus is a great penis with consciousness, but hours manifest as the puja bind of Shiva and others like Shiva himself and his erect penis.

This image creates a focus during masturbation and creates a bond between man and his cock and serves as a guide in meditation.

Much of the teachings contained here are based on Eastern philosophies and beliefs such as tantra. Tantra practitioners use the pictures in meditation to stimulate the process of purification and we masturbators use the image of the Great Phallus to stimulate the Goon process and other sexual travel and transes.

In tantra the images are Buddha figures, ishtadevata, which means chosen deities, that is, deities chosen for the practice of transformation in Buddha. Here the figure of the Great Phallus becomes a deity for the transformation of the masturbator. They are "deities" in the sense that their capacities transcend those of ordinary beings; however, they do not control people's lives or require worship. Thus, the Tibetan scholars translated the term as lhagpay lha (lhag-pa'i lha), special deities, to differentiate them from worldly gods or God the Creator.

The basis is the same, but adapted. Nothing is invented, but adapted to our understanding.

The most common equivalent in Tibetan, yidam (yi-dam), more clearly denotes the intended meaning. Yi means mind and dam means damtsig (dam-tshig, Sanskrit samaya), an intimate bond. Tantra practitioners connect with male and female buddha figures, such as Avalokiteshvara and Tara, in imagining themselves as having the illuminating facets of physical appearance, communication, mental functioning, good qualities, and activities of these figures.

Just as in tantric deities, we establish an intimate connection with the phallic deity as we imagine ourselves as the penis erect, abovenso the same characteristics of the phallic image.

The complement

Some say that sex separates man from spiritual. I say the opposite. Sexual practice when well used can enhance spirituality. Of course, the two sources will not mix explicitly, but complement each other. Sexual energy, like the energy of orgasm, can also be understood as an extraphysical force. I'm not saying that we're going to make it a religion, even though I find religion to be something that limits humanity. But that sex helps in spirituality. If you after orgasm, meditating your neural capacity can be expanded and you can access higher or lower worlds. This is an example of the benefits of sex in spirituality. Just as during sex you can expand your consciousness. Therefore, sex and spirituality are twin brothers. Each with a face.

The Egrégora

The unity of thought of many men masturbating in unison forms an egrégora. An egrégora is an entity created from the collective thought. It is understood by entity, a force, a collective energy that has semi-consciousness. There are egeographies of the most varied types. A hospital will have an egress of healing, because most of the people there are seeking a cure for their disease, so the smallest sign of approach to this place can be healing energy on the body of those who seek this place. A battlefield will have a war egrégora. A university will have an egrégora of knowledge. And all these egeographies facilitate the fluidity of energy.

When men masturbate together, physically or virtually, a sexual egrégora manifests itself. This egrégora forms the entity of Great Phallus Eret. This collective mental creation assists us in masturbatory work and helps us in the evolution of being. In addition, during sessions the masturbators can combine which egrégora they want to form and where to direct the thought. When several people have the same common goal, their energy groups and "fixes" in an egrégora.

The egrégora reaps the same emotions that created it. That is why many report that the more they masturbate, but they want to masturbate. This happens because the knowledge is partial or none of the egrégora etc. An egrégora has time and day to finish. Everything will depend on who creates it, how it creates it, and for what purpose it will be. In fact it does not cease to exist, but becomes less dense and consequently less noticeable. The egrégora created with healthy intentions, tends to induce its members to continue being healthy.

The ancients considered the egrégora a living being, with their own strength and will, generated from their creators or feeders, but independent of each of them. To overcome or modify it, it would be necessary for all generators or maintainers to want and act accordingly. It turns out that as each individual is under his influence, you can hardly ever get over it.

Forms-Thoughts

Forms-Thoughts unlike the egrégora is the force of the individual thought that creates forms and entities. It is created through the intention, concentration and visualization of the person, and its most common purpose is to achieve some specific goal. Thought-forms are nourished by the thought energy of the person who created them or by other predetermined sources - elements of nature, energetic batteries, feelings, finally. Mental guidance creates thought-form. It is important to understand these concepts to understand what phallic masturbation is and how it is performed.

The role of each

All are important in the Order. Each contributes in a way. The base masturbators are the engines of the Great Phallus. They are responsible for keeping the fire burning. The negialist (cum denialist) are the fuel because they do not enjoy it and their horniness floats and fill the Great Phallus. Solos are the builders. His almost obsession in the image of Phallica's beauty creates the body of the Great Phallus. And the Gooners are the activators. Their minds in complete sexual trance create the mind of the Great Phallus. So all are important in the phallic current.

Edge - Extending the boundaries.

The Edge is prolonged masturbation with breaks or not. Masturbation is not something that is done in 15-20 minutes. This was at a time when the marginalization of sex was on the rise and we should do everything hidden to avoid being caught. Today we know of all the benefits of masturbatory practice and sexual liberties that permeate our society and there is no need for a short pleasure. Edge challenges us to go beyond. It is the practice that trains the mind, body and fucking. It is one of the steps to reach the state of Goon. The Edge works as follows: masturbate until you reach the point of almost enjoyment or better known as a "return point," stop, pause for a few seconds or minutes, and return to masturbate.

As the masturbator acquires the technique and mastery of mind and body he will extend the period of masturbation into a masturbatory session. There are men who can spend all day like this, masturbating and taking breaks of minutes or hours to do home-based activities. Many train their penises at dawn when they are more at ease and reserved in their rooms. And many take advantage of the weekends and holidays to do their sessions. Many edger masters participate in jackpots and official championships.

The Edge is a great opportunity for self-knowledge and personal development.

When your body is drawn to exhaustion it transforms. He finds abilities he did not find before. He develops potentialities that he did not develop before, and that is why man becomes better and more transformed. When we take our masturbation to exhaustion our mind and our sex rises. It's like a body that gets a breastplate, a vest, a special cover. A bonus. You get stronger every time you get over it. However, this requires training and care. Those who are phallic masters are able to achieve exhaustion without harming their bodies. It is not advisable to use a neophyte from the edge practice in its entirety. The edge for beginners should be gradual and partial.

Goon

Goon is an evolutionary process, that is, we evolve until we reach the state of goon. The more I surrender to my penis, I relax and let the energy flow, but it will be easy to reach the goon state. It must be available for the penis. One must be aware of the desire to achieve this state of total sexual excitement and ecstasy, awakening the mind and expanding consciousness.

As each session goes into this goon universe, more neural connections are being created in our brain by streamlining and facilitating this state. That way, more and more we will go in goon in less time, to the point of just letting the tough stick already lead us to that state. This is a constant training. The masturbator needs to delve more and more into the goon, letting his mind light and released for the waves of endorphins to fill his mind, relaxing his whole body with vibrations of love, peace and warmth.

It all starts with the focus on the penis itself and that the solosexuals know how to do very well. It takes a bit of solitude inside you for the goon to be activated. You need to focus on your own cock and that requires horny and craving in your own penis. All this combined with a good practice of visualization. Your penis can not get out of your mind while goes into goon. And he will not leave. The penis becomes an object of meditation. A point where we put our focus and forget everything letting the fucking do all the work. This is what tantra practitioners call tantra sexual meditation. The difference from this to other types of meditation is that empty space is filled with pleasure and thus an additional artifice. From there all the trance and sexual ecstasy take care of the masturbador and he is no longer the same. His tongue is out, we drool, moan, squirm, breath is breathless and face full of grimaces, but all this because we forget the outside and enter a world of pleasure where only we and our penis. It is a state where our unconsciousness becomes aware and with practice we can see our true nature.

Raising this state of goon, many come to have visions of places and beautiful landscapes and this we call sexual nirvana, or only nirvana. And ending all this state of deep pleasure we open our eyes, we return to the normal world and we are in bliss, a state of total happiness, tranquility and inner peace. This is Goon.

The goon journey

Your mind must be conditioned to goon. Your brain needs to be accustomed to the command of the hard dick, to the point of the slightest sign of erection your mind already begin to go into goon. This is only possible with training. You need to train this goon way daily, even for a few minutes. This is what I call "The Goon Journey." Starting a journey is like going out on a path like a pilgrim. Every day is a walk, every day is a discovery on your fucking.

Negalismo - The puntata never ends.

Have you thought about an endless punch ?! Was that possible? Can my dick take it? Yes! It's possible never to end a jack, but it's not like you're thinking. Your physical body has limitations and must be respected. But if you do not enjoy it, technically the punch is not over. To this we masturbators call denying the enjoyment or the English "cum denial".

There are many men who are adept at this technique and make it a life style and philosophy. For them, the unfinished punch is a source of accumulated hardness. If they do not enjoy the pleasure accumulates and automatically increases. In this way, they say that orgies multiply. What these men have are the so-called "dry orgasms" or orgasm without ejaculation. Of course this requires training and devotion. There are men who stay days, weeks, months and even years farming the fucking bag. With this they become master in body control and mastery of the mind. His sessions are extremely long and can exceed 12 hours masturbating.

But this technique does not come from today. It dates back more than 5,000 years, originating in Asia. From the Chinese emperors to the Indian monks all denied enjoyment in favor of extreme pleasure. Thus they believed that the retention of semen could increase the body's capacity and the magnification of its electromagnetic field. Semen is energy. When we ejaculate the body discharges and relieves itself, renewing itself to a new phase. When we deny the enjoyment this energy accumulates and we elevate in the state of Goon. This is called transmutation. Turning sexual energy into vital energy. So we put the useful to the pleasant. Uninterrupted pleasure through an endless punch and the generation of vital energy.

21 days denied for the transformation of being

There are studies that say that for a change to be effective it takes 21 days. In these 21 days the brain creates mental conditions and neural pathways that facilitate understanding of a new thing. Change is always necessary. Improving is accurate.

Otherwise, spiritualists and teachers say that during the 21 days the body undergoes a bioenergetic transformation. Every body is reincarnated in life, giving life to a new body.

You can use the 21 days for whatever you want in order to have an improvement and / or a change of life. Our case will use the 21 days for the birth of a new masturbator. Thus was created the "21 days denied". There are 21 days denied to enjoyment, only masturbating and never spurring. It may seem difficult at first to keep fucking in the bag, but it is a delightfully distressing experience.

In these 21 days the masturbator is reborn as a penis. The excitement increases considerably. The piroca changes its appearance. We think of piroca all the time. In all we see sex and the penis comes to control us during that period 100x more. It is a unique transformation experience. The masturbator acquires skills such as self-control, intuition, sensitivity, concentration, etc. Your focus and mental alertness double. His power of attraction multiplies. The masturbator looks like a nuclear bomb ready to explode.

At the end of 21 days the masturbator is no longer the same. He visibly is another. He feels and perceives himself as another man. Your perception of the world and of yourself is another, bigger and better.

These 21 days are important for the transformation of the being, unblocking the chakras, the libido, and the phallic awakening and rebirth. It is a mark in the life of man. The 21 days is used for those who want to awaken the Goon and connect with the Great Phallus Erect. The Goon is much easier. The man becomes his own penis. Your body becomes one.

The 21 days should always be done according to the availability of the masturbator.

All are important

All are important in the Order. Each contributes in a way. The base masturbators are the engines of the Great Phallus. They are responsible for keeping the fire burning. The negialist (cum denialist) are the fuel because they do not enjoy it and their horniness floats and fill the Great Phallus. Solos are the builders. His almost obsession in the image of Phallica's beauty creates the body of the Great Phallus. And the Gooners are the activators. Their minds in complete sexual trance create the mind of the Great Phallus. So all are important in the phallic current.

The non-interrupt state.

The gooner goal is to achieve the state of non-interruption, that is, the eternal state. This state does not mean let's masturbate without a break. Is not it. But that the gooner state will be alive and latent within us. This state is achieved with the denial of joy. Since there is no ejaculation technically the masturbation does not end, the horn does not end, but accumulates keeping us in a cycle of endless punches that begin and stop without ceasing. These states are what we call complete state, or no-stop state.

This notion of non-interruption is drawn from Tantrism or only tantra. The root of the word tantra means stretching or continuing without interruption. Emphasizing this connotation, Tibetan scholars translated the term as gyu (rgyud), which means uninterrupted continuity. Here reference is to continuity through time, as in a succession of moments in a film, and not to continuity through space, as in a succession of segments of the pavement. In addition, the successions discussed in Tantra resemble eternal films: without beginning or end.

Non-disruption and continuity are the key words for a gooner. The goal of practice is to achieve a state without beginning and without end where pleasure and excitement will flow without ceasing in our body. Not jumping brings us to this state. Of course, we are still on the path of gooner development, but the great masters no longer ejaculate or ejaculate very little, maintaining this state of perpetual non-interruption. Their chicks have already taken control of their lives and become real living organisms. Their minds are already made easy to go into goon and live in that state. They are penis.

Non-disruption is the absolute state of the penis and the goal of the gooner. However, it is a very difficult state to achieve (I can not do it myself). I can stay for months without being in full depth with my penis, transformed and possessed by the Great Phallus, but one hour my nectar must drip and be drunk by me. But it is the practice that leads to perfection. It is the training of the mind, the resistance, the devotion and delivery to the penis that will bring us closer to that state.

Bliss: the post-goon effect. 48 hours impregnated.

A study published in the journal Psychological Science looked at what they call "post-sex glow" - that would be benefits lasting up to 48 hours after intercourse (masturbation or sex with a partner). What the researchers have discovered now, we masturbators have known for a long time. What they call "post sex glow" I call "BLISS".

Bliss is the post-goon effect that stays in up to 48 hours. Our brain becomes anesthetized, light, filled with the sexual waves emanating from our cock. Our body is IMPREGNATED by the energy of the hard pica. Our nipples remain sensitive. Our mind is still reliving those moments of the session. When we close our eyes we still see ourselves masturbating, feeling the desire the taste of pleasure inside our mouth. It's like a hangover from piroca.

After these 48 hours the horn gradually returns and we masturbate again.

Impregnation

Every time we masturbate, we hit our piroca, punch our fucking, let's impregnate ourselves. We are getting impregnated with the phallic energy. This energy sticks to our skin, our body, inside and outside us. Some are so imbued with this energy that others perceive it. The hormones become the flower of the skin and exalted by the dust, attracting the prey and awakening in other males the desire to put their spikes out and masturbate. The goal of the masturbator is to be impregnated 24 hours a day, enveloped by the energy of his piroca and Great Phallus exuding the smell of pica and male hormone by the potions. Let the sweet scent of the piroca exhale, have the scent of sex on your body, and live impregnated by the energy of piroca.

Phallic Intoxication

Phallic poisoning is when the masturbator stays a long time without enjoying it and the horniness is so much that he no longer differentiates his penis from his body, but however much he wants, he can not enjoy it because his piroca has become accustomed to holding the semen. Your head only thinks of penis. His piroca hardens all the time, but he does not enjoy it. With this the phallic affliction is greater. Intoxication is very common in people who are beginning masturbatory life because they are not adapted to not enjoy themselves.

Detoxification

Detoxification can only occur by discharging the sacred truncheon. However, the cock resists the enjoyment because it has become accustomed to the high horn and wants more and more this horny. The way to do it is to take the time needed to masturbate until the fucking thing comes out. Usually the masturbator stays a whole day punching with some pauses until expelling the white phlegm.

Desires and impulses.

Observe your sexual desires and urges. Do not control, do not let loose, just watch and let it flow. Desire is not good or bad, it just is. It is within you. The question is not desire, but what you do with it. The point is not to stick hard the question is what do you do with it. The fate that you give to your desires is that it will tell you whether it is good or bad, whether it does you good or it hurts you. Desires are neutral, they are not to blame for anything and there is nothing to blame for feeling them. The secret is in the direction you give them. An anger is neutral. If you direct all your anger into a physical exercise instead of doing harm to someone else, that anger has been well directed. A hard dick is neutral along with desire. If you direct that desire to your own advantage, there is nothing to blame.

Religions blame the penis for the evil of mankind. The sex of degradation and human involution are seen in sex. But I say that the penis is not to blame for anything, quite the opposite. If all were well resolved with penis, their desires and sexuality, people would live better.

Tantra does not fight desires, but lets flow, and sees desire in the way. If you have a great desire to masturbate, instead of blaming yourself for it, or finding it to be a disease, channel that will for your own benefit. This desire can benefit you. As? If you know how to direct. Water can not be stopped, but we can change its course, dam it for a while or just follow its course. Such is the sexual desires. You must guide the course of desire.

There are times when it is best to deny enjoyment to generate more strength and increase focus. There are times when it is best to enjoy without limits, to gush the nectar in order to discharge the tensions.

If you know how to direct your desires. Your will will be beneficial. The question lies in you. Do not administer the penis, administer it is your mind.

Stick out your tongue!

It is almost instinctive during our masturbation session to stick our tongue out. Many do not know how to explain why they do it, just say it comes a huge urge to put the tongue out. Some transfigure their faces, with faces and expression that can not describe. But why this?

When we are totally delivered to the penis our primitiveness is surfaced and our unconscious starts to control us. We all carry the same heritage as our ancestors. And when we put our tongue out almost without realizing we are reliving what our ancestors did.

Many cultures in their rituals stick their tongue out. It is the case Maori in tribal dances, Hindus in dance rituals, Thais representing the gods, etc. There are still in many eastern gods their representation with their tongue out.

For man, the tongue outward represents strength, dominion, and authority. The primitives put their tongues out to intimidate their opponents, impose their authority and ward off evil. The changed face had the "power" to drive away the negativity that was fleeing from fear. Many tribes also represented these expressions in masks, frowns and totems as we can see to this day.

That way, when we put our tongue out we are unconsciously doing like the ancestors. The tongue out pulls away the negativity and acknowledges our authority and strength.

So the next time you put your tongue out, do not be afraid, or think it strange.

Stay Peeled! - Nudism at home

Nudism is an old practice. It is a practice that is part of naturism. Today with the advancement of sexual liberties this practice comes back to society and more and more people are taking off their clothes and integrating with nature leaving their bodies free. The feeling of freedom and well-being is the most encouraging. Entering the water without a bathing suit and being able to dry in the sun in a natural way, has no explanation. A day in life everyone should try! I do not know ex-naturists.

Those who have practiced have become adepts for life. Nudism as a root in naturism has a very broad philosophy of life. The bator culture absorbs part of this nudist and naturist understanding and adds to our culture. Being naked with exposed dicks is a blessing. We encourage nudism and home naturism. Whenever you can, stay home naked. There is masturbators who, as soon as they get home, take off their clothes and become completely naked. You can do this in your room whenever you can. Being able to look at our cock all the time makes us horny and ready to masturbate. Peeled, the cocks call us all the time, inviting us to masturbate. Besides being more practical when it comes to masturbating. Read more about the practice and philosophy of nudism and naturalism and add to your way of life.

The primitive animal instinct.

What kind of animal are you in Goon? When we go into goon, our primitive instinct surfaces and most of the time we behave like animals in heat. It is very common for us to look like primates and this is a reflection of our nature. See what some primitive behaviors mean.

Wolf: Gooner howls compulsively while rubbing his . The wolf shows the authority of the penis over the masturbator. This howl calls the phallic energy of other penises to your cock. Just as the wolf calls the pack.

Dog: The dog gets very breathy as if he were thirsty. It is a sign of surrender to the penis that begins to take control.

Monkey / Monkey: The gooner in these states is already totally addicted to pleasure and lust. Well naughty, he opens his legs and often stays in the position of this primate, touching the nipples and smoothing his molten dick.

Pig / Pig: Once delivered, the gooner has already lost all sense and only thinks about masturbating. Damn the rules he's surrendered to his cock. It gets completely lost in your penis.

The power of masturbation

Masturbation is the thing we all love and even more is the feeling of pleasure that this act brings us. I am practicing masturbation and keeping my focus on my cock as a means of creating energy and using it in my personal construction. The penis is a natural totem, the man's obelisk pointed upwards. Its base, the head has a triangular shape, like a pyramid, which facilitates the capture of the energy of the universe, spreading throughout the body, loading and regenerating. The penis has the power to regenerate, build and cleanse. It is a great magical instrument for those who know how to use it. Although many do not see it, the head of the piroca expands and illuminates in a silver or gold coloration during the punch held with focus and dedication.

The energy created when we masturbate is one of the most powerful energies that exist within the human body, for it is the only energy that can be transmuted into Qi energy, vital energy. This energy penetrates our body and mind (goon) and we are literally possessed. This energy cleanses, carries, regenerates, builds and rebuilds us as new men. The masturbator in each session is taking on a new form and this is one of the goals of masturbation: to create new men, more phallic, more masculine energetically speaking, more balanced and centered for a new world. May this energy help you in building a new, better and greater being.

Every man masturbates

Every man masturbates. All. No matter the color, creed, class social, every man masturbates. You can go to the most remote place in the world, if there is a man, there will be masturbation. Another truth is that no one stops masturbating. There is no such thing. Sometimes we see people saying they do not masturbate, but that's not true. Masturbation is a natural instinct of man. It's part of your physiology. It is in your DNA that desire to masturbate. Then it will be in vain to strive to stop. Masturbation can not be stopped. Masturbation should be administered. There is no stopping. There are "breaks". Even if you do not realize it, your body gives pauses for masturbation. You do not stop masturbating. Many men stay for a long time without masturbating and begin to believe that they have succeeded in overcoming that will. They knock on the chest and shout aloud that they are "freed" from masturbation and start giving lectures, etc. But soon after that period the will returns ten times stronger and feel frustrated. Many claim to be victims of evil and temptation. But away from ignorance, this desire is nothing more than your body responding to its nature. Your desire to play the punch will never cease and if this happens you will probably have to seek a doctor because your libido is probably low. Nobody stops masturbating. Our body gives pauses in masturbation, even unconsciously. So it is natural to masturbate as it is also natural to stay in a period without masturbating. The point is in managing it.

Tibetan monks believe that seminal secretions are sources of energy and that discarding would result in a loss of that energy. But how to conserve this energy without ejaculating? How to lighten the heat without enjoying it? Through techniques and meditation, the monks learned to masturbate without enjoying themselves. With this they conserve this energy and enjoy the pleasure of their penises. They direct sperm energy into the mind. This is TANTRA.

For them, sex is not dirty, but an instrument of enlightenment. That is why I say that those who believe that they are masturbating too much can use this technique and understanding, as well as other techniques.

But know that your will to masturbate will live forever within you.

Phallic energy

When a penis is hard, the wearer can feel all the energy. It often begins as a heat that spreads from the head of the stick, along the axis, to the base of the club, then up and down the body of a man. At the same time, the brain, the mind is compromised, begins a climb to another dimension. The deluge of endorphins, the stimulation, we feel VIVO thanks to our hard pirocas.

When the cock is in the company of other coats, the energy is palpable and tangible. The piroca begins to pulse and throb jumping up and down, recognizing kinship and joy. Our penis requires that they be seen, be visible to the stick of the other brothers.

The energy of pleasure is built and grows from man to man, from piroca to piroca. The psycho-sensory apparatus of each man is directed to please and listen to penis.

Edging, denying cum, non-ejaculating tantric sex, these can keep men and their penis in a delicious state of limbo - the desire to spray, to achieve orgasm, but keeping the high is equally desired.

Imagine two, three, and nine, a great number of pirocas in the presence of each other, eager to share the joy they bring to their owners.

Let us always find the occasion to allow the construction of phallic energy, to allow the energy of our cock to reach our Brothers. Let us allow this energy, this life giving dynamism, which produces pleasure and nourishment through its white nectar.

The phallic mind

The phallic mind is the mind available and receptive to the penis. When we practice constant masturbation as a practice of expanding consciousness and awakening, we begin to acquire the phallic mind. We establish a fast, open and wide path between the penis and the mind, where at the smallest stimulus of the cock the mind automatically expands and lights up in goon. Acquiring the phallic mind requires constant practice and devotion, as well as awareness of the masturbatory act. The phallic mind is the penis within the mind and the mind inside the penis. This mind sets in the penis on the glans. The entire glans connects with the mind of the receiver (man) and vice versa. The phallic mind turns penis and man into one. The phallic mind is the mind refined and turned towards the penis. This refinement is done constantly within chronic masturbation. Each step that the masturbator gives within the path brings this refinement. This refinement is never fully completed because chronic life is endless. The refinement takes place in four stages: Denial, partial denial, surrender and acceptance.

In denial the refinement of the mind is still barely perceptible. It is when the masturbator practices the phallic arts, but soon after his session denies his condition, runs away, stays a while without manifesting the fucking energy, but soon after a long time chronic life returns. And when you return your cravings for penis is much greater than before.

Partial denial the masturbator begins to understand his phallic condition and understand some processes of this path. He understands that even if he stops for a while, he will soon return later, and so he tries to find ways to drain this masturbatory habit. But it is in vain.

In surrender, the masturbator already understands that there is no way to fight against his nature. He recognizes that he is a masturbator and confesses to himself his condition. And when there is nothing else to do, he surrenders and surrenders. And it is from there that the refinement of the mind becomes more evident. The masturbator, instead of struggling against his nature, seeks means and ways of perfecting them in order to use masturbation as an instrument of inner transformation, continuous improvement and upliftment. He understands that masturbation is not a bad thing, but beneficial.

Acceptance is the last stage of this refinement, but it is not the end. It's just the last. He, the masturbator, understands and accepts his phallic life, adapts his life to routine, uses his penis as a means of enlightenment and from there begins to specialize, strengthen, improve, train and perfect himself in the phallic arts. At this stage he enters the goon realm, mental expansion, and bliss. There is no resistance, there is only understanding.

In the phallic mind the masturbator works at all times to remove the limitations, the barriers, the barks that prevents light from reaching our body.

The expansion of consciousness

We know how to deal with the two energies that are commonly manifested in our daily lives: physical (primitive) energy and emotional (intermediate) energy. But the Magnification of Consciousness is supported by another type of energy, the (elevated) vital energy - which, being different from the others and unusual for most of us, is puzzling and challenging. But how to generate this vital energy?

There are many ways to generate this energy. When we go to a religious service, when we meditate, when we enjoy ourselves positively with the friends and when we have sex. Yes, sex has the power to generate this vital energy.

The encounter of two bodies can generate and / or potentiate this vital energy. But the problem is that when we have sex, there is the union of two energies, ours and our partner. This can be bad when the vibration of the other is not as positive as ours and vice versa. In this way, there will be an energetic wear and the use of this energy will be minimal. So how to generate this energy in pure form? Through masturbation, the solo sex, of solosity. Self-pleasure is life, it is blessing. Fighting with yourself can be very helpful in our bodily recovery when performed in a positive way.

The sexual organs are generators of energy. They are natural engines of vital energy generation. It's like an engine that goes on heating until it does the combustion, generating force for every car. So the piroca is the engine and you are the car. The woman's pussy also has that same ability.

When this energy reaches its apex it explodes in ejaculation. But as we progressed from human evolution, we discovered that we did not need to enjoy this energy and that it was much more beneficial if we sublimated it, that is, if we raised it to the maximum. This is how the Goon came about. Goon is an enlargement of consciousness where we allow the penis to take control in possessing us. When the cock assumes control it connects directly to our mind in an orgasmic cycle so intense that we become just bearers of the cock. He uses us. What happens in the goon is indescribable, just living this experience is we can understand it. And do not judge someone in goon, because their appearance has nothing to do with what happens inside the masturbator. It is really complex and paradoxical. Although externally the masturbator looks like an animal, a zombie, with strange expressions and moans, inside he is sublime, his mind floats, his spirit is in a state of grace, his brain is receiving waves of intense pleasure, carnalistic clashes over time all in neurons, the penis massages the entire brain mass. It's the penis fucking our mind.

This experience makes the masturbator a new man. A better man, but accomplished sexually, better resolved, integrated with the world and with his body more strengthened. And these are just a few examples of change. Those who enter goon do not want to leave this state anymore. And over time this experience is getting more intense, because the brain is relaxing and opening for the stick to manifest within it. Many gooners (people specialized only in goon art) spend hours in this state masturbating without enjoying themselves.

The goon enlarges the consciousness, relaxes the mind and leaves the brain more plastic, less rigid and hardened. Goon should be practiced by every masturbator and not to enjoy can double or even quadruple the intensity of this expansion of consciousness (but this is not a rule). Goon then demands an abandonment of everyday logic, a drastic change in our perspective, a broadening of references, and another relation to time and space - connected in four dimensions, intertwined in the space-time of spirituality. Goon alters and improves our perception of things. This is one of the reasons for total devotion, respect and reverence of some people for the penis. The functions of this organ so despised throughout the century are so immense that we know only a small part. Today, with individual and collective freedoms reigning over man, a deepening of the phallic arts is possible for the benefit of mankind.

The purity of the source

For better energy use, masturbation needs to seek purity from the source. The purer, cleaner and without interference is the your better and more crystalline punch will be the energy generated.

Therefore the importance of some care:

- Conduct a session without external interference. Alone or in partnership the environment shall be closed to external interference.
- Look for a calm and quiet environment. The only noise should be that of piroca being punched.
- Stay focused on the sessions. Have your concentration on high, focus on fucking and total dedication to it.
- Let the penis show its glory. Leave the penis of your show. In the sessions you serve the penis and satisfy your wants. As a reward he will give you the pleasure you deserve.
- Surrender and surrender to the penis. Be totally willing to fuck yourself. Surrender to the power of your penis. The more you give yourself, the better the session.
- Let the penis guide you in the sessions.
- Go into Goon. Allow yourself to be possessed by the penis. Get lost in it and travel in the sea of pleasure.

Following this care you will have a better use of your sessions and your dick, thus generating more pure sources of energy.

Training the mind by piroca.

We can train our minds to see all the directions and even see the internal organs of the body. We cultivate and exploit the powers of the imagination in order to progress. With the mastery of such practices, it is possible to have this broad awareness even outside our masturbation sessions. By being able to see everything around us, we can feel as if we are beyond the limits of our own body. With time and practice some capacities are awakened as telepathy and clairvoyance. The practice of masturbation alters our perception.

Removing the walls

The universe is multimensional, that is, it is constructed of numerous dimensions. Our life is in the third dimension. We are three-dimensional beings. We can only perceive three dimensions of space-time, that is, of the universe. The light to reach man passes through many dimensions, but we only perceive three.

Each dimension is like a wall for man. These walls make it difficult for the light to reach the man directly. And in addition, throughout human existence we have been creating more barriers of hatred, anger, pain, wars, divergences etc. that block further access to this light. Light is nothing but the expansion of consciousness. Those who can remove these barriers experience a revolution in their lives. Ancient sciences and philosophies have created many mechanisms for removing these barriers. They are the philosophies, the religions, the sciences where each human being will discover the best way for such.

Sex is a way to remove these barriers. The penis is a portal that opens the doors to remove all walls and enlarge awareness. Orgasm is a great cosmic explosion within us. The Orientals called Kundalini, Tantra, Kung Fu sexual etc. No matter, sex is not a distraction from the way to evolve, it is the aid of this evolution. Masturbation is the way to remove these barriers. At jack, each session is an opportunity to improve our orgasm. This focus on the penis and released pleasure relaxes the body and mind by facilitating the light of being absorbed by man.

Phallic work, constant masturbation creates a connection between man and the universe. With this connection he can expand to wherever he wants. It is not difficult to hear accounts of bodily unfolding, astral travel, and visions during masturbation sessions. The goon is the sacred secret of the penis. It is a drop of gold that falls on the head of the penis, penetrating the stalk, circling the balls and raising the mind through the spine.

The man experiences waves of pleasure from the universe through his penis and then awakens. Each goon state breaks this barrier and frees us into the universe. By weakening the barriers of the mind the goon opens the doors to the penis and the penis opens the doors to the universe. As a key the penis opens doors, and we must choose which doors we will open. These are the great secrets. Practitioners make a connection to whatever they desire. There are no rules, there is evolution and choice. The path is free, each one chooses how he wants to walk.

Take off the weight.

Do not be so picky with yourself. And do not be so picky about others. Why do you follow everything? Because you take everything so seriously. You just have to be you.

The doctrines and teachings should not be a weight, but a relaxation. Because they demand so much. Nobody is perfect. And we're not here to please everyone. This is not a competition here and no one is obligated to anything. So just be happy and follow. It does not cover so much and does not cover so much of the people.

Masturbation shows how fragile people are and desires are so simple and at the same time powerful. Do not make masturbatory practice or anything else a tug of war. Let it flow. Have no fear. Everything is in the right place. Each contributing to the universe the way it can.

There is no way, there is only the way. What I write is just one way. What other blogs write is just one way. Do not demand much of yourself or the others. Turn the experience of masturbation into something pleasurable. Take off the weight. When we naked to masturbate and stand before our horny dick in the horn, we are also recognizing that we are human, with flaws, flaws and also hits and quality.

Do not take anything too seriously.

Using Goon to attract what you want.

Through the masturbatory practice it is possible through the Goon to carry out the astral journey. We can rise to the maximum and reach multiple dimensions. At the same time it is possible to attract the desired energy for the present time. This is because during masturbation the body's molecules are agitated, the mind focuses and rises and the vibration of the body is so high that the body resembles a nuclear bomb. Yes! When we reach the state and Goon our body is vibrating at such a high frequency that we can reach multiple dimensions through the mind. It is as in meditation only with pleasure. If the masturbator masters the technique he can direct it to where he wants. However, it is very common at first the mind to be drawn to where the beginner most resembles, ie if the masturbator has more affinity or inclination for good will be drawn to beneficial, if otherwise evil, dimensions. As he acquires the technique through constant training of mind and piroca, he begins to attract and no longer be attracted. Therefore, the focus and mastery of the mind are important. Your mind becomes a voltante and you drive wherever you want and you search for what you want.

You need to clear all barriers of the mind to reach the Goon. And the best way to do this is by relaxing and surrendering to the penis. When you become available and open to the penis and a new reality in the way you masturbate and understand the penis, the barriers fall. Falling the barriers your mind empties, but there are still fragments that prevent the total disposal for the penis. This requires total focus on the penis. Having focus the mind frees itself and the penis totally assumes the mind, possessing it making the mind penis. Thus the masturbator enters into Goon becoming one with his penis and going beyond, becoming a penis.

Generate, Build, Materialize.

We study the whole theme of masturbation and its processes. We have researched deeply the history, philosophies and teachings in order to generate new technology and spirituality. Masturbation goes through three processes that goes unnoticed: Generate, build and materialize.

Visualizations of erotic images, videos, audios, or even the focus on the image of our dick is the stage of generation. All this stage is generating the phallic field. Masturbation begins in the field of the mind and not in the penis. Your mind generates and your penis feeds on these thought forms.

The second stage is construction. It is the process of increasing horniness. The tightness of the cock. The moment we are stimulated. At that moment the ecstasy is building and giving shape to all the thought generated by the images. At the same time the penis is working generating the fucking in the bag, its nipples harden and its tongue begins to come out.

The third stage is that of materialization. In this last stage the cock assumes the main role. The piroca begins to foam its drool, its precum. The smell of pica gets stronger, the balls begin to sweat and at last the piroca enjoys.

Joy is the materialization of the Great Phallus and the expression of the devotee himself masturbator. The hot fucking poured is the consummation and confirmation of the masturbatory essence. When we rejoice, we reaffirm our phallic nature and strengthen ourselves as masturbators.

Empty your mind

It is necessary to empty the mind to make room for the penis. The emptiness of the mind is filled by the penis. The penis mind. Emptiness expands to the point where the whole mind becomes the penis itself. This state of filling the mind by the penis results in Goon. The mind is filled with the penis and the masturbator experiences a state of total expansion. The masturbator needs to donate his mind to the penis so that it acts by releasing the waves of pleasure. For this the masturbator must surrender to the penis and be totally available to him. Delivery is necessary.

Goon cleanses the mind

The Goon cleanses the mind leaving the space free of illusions. In this way, the Goon unlocks a world without illusions where we come to see things more clearly. Everything gets clearer after a masturbation session. This clarity comes from cleansing the mind that removes temporary illusions, false expectations, meaningless fears, insecurities, and limitations. The masturbator man sees the world as it is without fear. The Goon is like looking at a city from above a Mountain. Thus, the Goon gives us a total view of things. Extreme pleasure, sexual ecstasy, sexual trance give electrical waves in our minds by altering our consciousness and improving our perception of the world.

Meditation Masturbation

Phallic meditation is meditation through masturbation. The goal is countless of practice and benefits as well. The practice is to masturbate with the focus on the image of the penis. Because the penis is an object of desire and pleasure, focus and concentration would be much greater in this practice and much more efficient.

If we are to work with a figure of a penis to develop concentration, it must have size of our thumb and be at arm's length in front of us. Our eyes look down, not at the object, since it is not generated by the eyes. We look down and the penis is slightly above the level of our forehead.

It's not hard at all. Look down and then place your thumb in front of you at the forehead. It looks like the big toe is not there, and even without looking at it you can focus on it, right? If after you lower your arm, you will continue to be able to focus on the same spot where the thumb was. Easy!

You can use your own cock as a contemplative and meditative figure. Looking at him while masturbating and focusing on it thinking nothing more, just the penis.

When we visualize, we need to take care of two aspects. One is to create an image, which is often translated as "clarity", but this is not a very good word, because it is understood that there is clarity. At this point in practice, sharpness is not our primary concern, our concern is to make something appear in our imagination. And the second factor is literally "pride," proud to feel that what we're seeing is actually there.

This pride, this feeling, is very important in the beginning. We do not have to worry about the sharpness of the image, but if we can really feel that there is a piroca right in front of us, it will be very good. All we need is something to appear, even if it's just a yellow light. And we think, "That, there's a real piroca there." The details will pop up automatically as our concentration improves.

Most of us have to start with a vague image or feeling of the whole figure and then, over time, go adding the details. All these details help us to expand mental awareness and to understand many things at once. The question is not the form of every detail, but rather what it represents.

Absorption of mythical figures

In addition to visualizing the phallic figure in masturbatory meditation, we can visualize mythical figures such as satyrs, Priapus, Dionysus, and other magical elementals or symbols. I particularly meditate on the figure of the satyr to the point of absorbing his image. I feel like a real hard fucking satyr with his antlers. This attracts the energy of the satyrs. See the meaning of some mythical figures.

The satyrs

You may have seen in many tumblr profiles pictures of a magical being with hard piroca, horns and goat's feet. For some this mythological being may be associated with the devil, devil or anything of the negative pole. Pure ignorance, for this is nothing more than a satyr.

The Satyr is a being of Greek mythology who lives in forests and forests. They are always masculine, they also have horns in the foreheads, flat noses, long beards and thick lips, however there are variations as to their face. For them, normally, the pine and the olive tree were offered, and although they were divine beings, they were not immortal.

These beings lived with their erect limb all the time and had sexual relations with the nymphs. Endowed with an eternal virility, their coats attract the nymphs and those who pass through their places.

The Satyrs were devotees of Dionysius, the god of wine and libidinous relations, and also of the god pā quea who was the protector of shepherds, of the forests, of the flocks and fields.

Well now you know who the satyrs are and who has nothing to do with the Catholic devil.

Cernunnos - The Ant

Its horns is the representation of the erect phallus. Of Celtic origin, Cernunnos is the main divinity of the Celtic pantheon. The name comes directly from the Gallo-Latin carnuātus, which refers to the "with horns". He is probably the earliest deity of his pantheon, along with the Goddess. He is usually represented surrounded by animals, especially the deer - with direct connection to its horns - and carries in a hand a serpent with mutton horns. Other small creatures appear less frequently. Because of these representations, it is usually called the "Lord of the "Lord of Wild Things."

Bread

In Greek mythology Pan is the lord of the woods and forests. It can not be confused with the Satyrs. According to legends that make up Greek mythology, the god Pan used to reside in the grottos located in the forests, being also a wanderer that wandered through the mountains and the valleys, always looking for hunting, or else looking for fun, dancing with nymphs cheerfully.

Priapo

Priapus is always represented with a long and hard cock. Considered the god of fertility and fecundity in Greek mythology, Priapus is related to the cycles of generation, agriculture and birth. Its statues were placed on the plantations and in the woods. In Greece he was particularly venerated by those who raised flocks of goats or sheep, or bees' hives. In Rome he was considered as a protector of the gardens. It was believed that it was he who kept them and made them fruitful. It should not, however, be confused with Vertuno. The ancients had the custom of erasing their statues with cinnabar or zircon. Sometimes they put gardening instruments, baskets for fruit, a sickle for mowing, one to ward off thieves, or a stick to frighten birds.

Dionysus - god Bacchus - Bacchanal

Dionysus is considered the god Bacchus, the god of wine. Bald head adorned with a crown of ages, Dionysius when he is above is the wise adviser. Dionysius is generally depicted with horns, a symbol of strength and power, crowned with pampas, ivy, or fig tree, in the guise of a smiling and festive young man. With one hand hold a bunch of grapes or a cup-shaped horn; with the other a band surrounded by foliage and ribbons. Her eyes are black, and on her shoulders, her long blond hair with golden reflections falls into wavy braids. The orgies or bacchanals were originally celebrated by women, in the woods, in the mountains, among the cliffs. They affected a mysterious character. Later on, people of both sexes were admitted to the celebration. Often unqualified disorders.

Shiva

Shiva is the Hindu god of destruction. Calm! The notion of Eastern destruction is different from that of the West. Shiva is the fire god that destroys to build. He is very attached to sexuality and is represented many times by his lingam puja that would be the image of his penis. In traditionalist Indian society, lingam is seen as a symbol of the energy and potential of God or of Shiva himself.

The word Shiva means "all auspicious." Shiva is the god of yogis - yogis means to destroy something in order to build something new. He is one of the supreme gods in Hinduism and considered the creator of Yoga, because of his enormous power in turning bad feelings and situations into good ones. Because of their strong energy emanating positivity and tranquility, negative entities, beings who are not enlightened, in coming in contact with Shiva, come to receive their light and become generous deities, just as he.

The horns

The Catholic church camouflaged many symbols of antiquity, altering its meaning. Many symbols of strength and power have been transformed into symbols of weakness and associated with evil. One of these symbols is the horn. In the consecrations of the temple the horn was used. The Shofar, sacred instrument of the Jews is made of the ram's horn. The Vikings adorned their helmets with horns. And many even today use animal horns behind the door to ward off evil. In the biblical book of Revelation, the 10 horns represent the 10 kings. In the ancient religions the priests kept consecrated liquids inside horns so that they gained strength and power. The four horns of the altar were called horns - they were considered especially sacred and in certain ritual ceremonies they were sprinkled of blood. the horn was a symbol of power and glory, and could be cut down and humbled in the dust.

The horn represents the masculine sacred, the yang force for the oriental, the energy at its apex, the sun, the force in its warmer period. The sacred male appears on many archetypes: Pan (Pan), Dionysus, Bacchus, Chiron, Hermes, Moses, Baphomet, Amom-Ra, Mitra, Odin, Wotan, Cernunnos, Shiva Lingam among others.

The crown used by the kings is the representation of horns. The diadems are horns on a crown. The more horns / diadems a crown has, the more power and authority a nobleman has.

For this and other reasons many gods are represented with horns. In ancient civilizations, horns were a representation of power and masculinity. In Babylon, for example, the degree of importance of the gods was identified by the number of horns assigned to him. And not! This has nothing to do with the Catholic devil.

It is important to note that the devil is a totally Catholic figure. Even Judaism does not exist. This figure as we know it today is fruit of the catholic interest in dominating the Nordic nations that had in Cernunnos a god.

Cernunnos was a god who lived in the woods and forests. It was endowed with great horns. To dominate these peoples, the Catholic Church associated this being with the devil, as it did in other religions such as African and African root (candomblé and umbanda). Thus came the myth of the devil endowed with horns and tridents.

Even long before that, the Egyptians already worshiped the God of the Hidden, of the dark, Amon, who also had horns. Before the appearance of Christianity, the Horned God was seen as a symbol of life, sexuality, ecstasy, and freedom.

The horns have a spirit-sexual connotation. Pointed upward it attracts the energy of the universe, just like the obelisks and pyramids. The penis as well as the horns have the same meaning and function. Hardened it points up. It is a symbol of man's power, strength and authority. By rubbing our penises, we warm up and activate the same energies that are in the horn. The penis is the horn of men.

The penis as well as the horns has the power to:

- Attract courage, strength and vigor;
- Bringing fertility and pregnancy;
- Get rid of stress;
- Attract sexual vigor;
- Increase perception and instincts;
- Solve difficult problems;
- Stabilize situations;
- Attract prosperity and wealth;
- Search for reason;
- To invoke the powers of plenty and prosperity.

In addition to being a symbol of strength, the horns were - and still are - considered a powerful defense against the evil eye and witchcraft, either in their natural cornea form or in the well-known sign with the closed hand, leaving the indicator and pinky. Like the horns, the penis is a point of contact with the cosmic energy that permeates the entire universe.

White goo is your reflection.

The sperm is the result of all the work of the masturbator. May be expelled or not. It is the materialization of the mind one, that is, of the mind of man and of the penis. The thoughts generated, the images seen, the mantras intoned, the desires manifested, the goon reached, all this is concentrated in the sperm. And the longer it lasts to be produced, that is, the longer your masturbation session, the stronger it will be. So the importance of holding the fucking.

When we stay for long periods without ejaculating this generated energy concentrates in the sperm and circulates throughout our body, strengthening the vessels, increasing the mental capacity, increasing the resistance and raising the body. Sperm today are trivialized, but few understand the importance of this magical liquid. The fucking delicious is a great instrument of work. Your fucking thing is your reflection. The quality of it will depend on your quality of life and dedication to the sexual arts. The ancient civilizations knew this and many worshiped sperm and used it in magical rituals. For a better use and benefit of this sacred nectar, the sperm must be contained in the body, that is, stored in the natural receptacle: the balls, in the bag for as long as you can. The balls, the gold eggs are the nectar hosts and must be devoted as well. The white fucking is his reflection. You're the fuck.

Keeping the Sun / Planting the Sun

The goal of constant masturbation is different from a short, simple knuckle. The goal is to make the masturbator create a deep connection with himself, a unique union and a better understanding of everything. It is challenging because it involves issues considered taboo in our society, but which bring a result beyond what is expected.

The masturbator becomes one with your penis. It happens to be the masturbated penis itself. The Incarnation of the Great Phallus Erect and the manifestation of the Sacred Masculine. There are many ways to maintain that connection. One of them is the ritual of "Keeping the Sun and Planting the Sun".

In some ancestral traditions like shamanism and Wicca, the moon represents the feminine and the Sun represents the Masculine. The female menstruation symbolizes the moon and the male sperm symbolizes the sun. Women perform a ritual called "planting the moon" where they shed the flow of their menstruation on earth, returning and honoring their cycle and their sacred feminine. But they can not keep it.

We men as a way to strengthen the connection we can "Keep the Sun" within us and "Plant the Sun" at appropriate times.

Many ask what to do with sperm after being ejaculated. For me and many others the sperm is sacred, source of life and vital force and should not be trivialized, but used ceremonially. Semen is a materialized energy. The penis is the representation of the sun. So when we plant the sun we are returning the energy to the universe and not throwing it away in a drain or in the trash. But what is to guard and plant the sun?

Keeping the Sun is keeping the semen inside us. The denialists are experts in this practice. Masturbating without joking is an old practice as has been said previously and brings many benefits. When we do not enjoy and keep our beloved fucking in the sack we are guarding the Sun within us. This energy condenses within us bringing all the benefits.

Planting the sun is returning the semen to the universe on earth. It can be in a separate plant vase or in a garden. Masturbation usually occurs, but at the end of the spree he delivers the cum to the earth, honoring the sacred Male, thanking the universe for orgasm and celebrating life.

We can also plant the sun in our partner. When we put our sperm in our ass or give us a drink with a good thick and warm milk, we perform the same ritual, but with an additional one: We empower and energize our partner. In this way, planting the sun in someone is a form of charity and detachment, fellowship and fellowship. However, it is important to always remember the importance of taking care not to contract STDs, always doing periodic exams and keeping the partner in the same.

So we do not discard in the trash our precious fucking fruit of a delicious work.

I am a penis. I am my penis. I am one.

Becoming a penis is one of the last stages in masturbation. There is a need to be one with the penis when we are masturbating. When this happens, we eliminate all the barriers that divide man and we become one. The penis helps us to be complete.

Doubts, fears, insecurities divide man and once dividing the day-to-day conquests become more difficult. It is important to understand that things only come in their entirety to those who are integral, one, complete. When we became a penis we became a single vibrating mass like our cock. We feel like our whole body sucks. We feel the pulse, the throbbing, the cum running in our veins, the glans is our head and the dick massaging the inside of our brain. We are a penis.

This one state at the end of each session makes us complete also as a human being and binds us to all beings.

Feel a lighted penis pulsing in the center of your breastplate and let it grow by taking all of your body. Take the shape of this penis mentally. That cock can be your cock and you become your own cock. Be it. Truly believe that it is him. Your mind believes in what you determine.

Some Tantric meditations are based on Buddhist deities. In these meditations the masters ask that the practitioner imagine himself as that image and feel, think and act like that budic figure. This causes the practitioner to absorb all the characteristics and energy of that deity, thus being able to perform the necessary personal transformation / improvement. So we follow the same principle. Feel like a penis. Imagine like one. Live every act a penis performs until the moment of the hot fucking trickling down the stalk. Be a big, spongy, thick, hot, varnished, mushroom head, veined, smelly.

We are kings

When we have our hard cock in front of us, masturbating, moaning, howling, sweating, drooling and twisting horny, we are kings. We are crowned by the deep Goon and all the sexual energy that surrounds us. We become a penis and the penis becomes us. We take control of our desires and let the coarse and delicious cock drive us. Our scepter is our cock that commands you to be masturbated. The Great Phallus sticks in our heads mastubando our brains, fudendo our minds, rubbing that brilliant cabeçorra in each piece of our thoughts until enjoy and make us turn the eyes of so much pleasure in the goon. Our nipples light up like crystals. Hardened they stand like stones. Our balls swell and weigh with such garish goslings, the sacred nectar. A great event happens and our body is transformed, our mind is transformed and our face transfigures. Our glans inflate with blood pressure and wrinkled skin is like a magic mushroom that hallucinates us with its red, purple or rosy glow to the point where we can see our silhouettes in it. The cock exudes its peculiar male scent. The piroca is with a delicious stench of pica, a bittersweet mixture, half sweet and half salty, half millet, half fucking and half tallow. The precum is expelled from second to second to lubricate the whole phallic body and each time we spread it with the hand our body awakens even more. At this point our body has already transformed. Our face is unrecognizable by the goon, our eyes are turned, we are making sounds, grunts and groans like animals. Our dick has already changed. It is thicker, full bodied, headstrong, shaken. The nipples double in size and are pointed like arrows to be thrown. We are beautiful, imposing with open legs. Some behaved like beasts and beasts. Authority is in our penis. Our anus flashes intermittently announcing that the fucking will milk, but as kings we hold to the maximum to guarantee multiple orgasms. And so it is. Shockwaves shoot our minds exploding into multiple dry orgasms. We're like a king. And then we enjoyed. We shed our pica phlegm, the white goo, the sack milk, the sacred nectar, the precious liquid, the protein produced by the stick, the food, the meal, the juice of the male, the club. And as we enjoy our cry of pleasure, as the kings make ready for the next ritual.

Resisting is in vain - Surrender, surrender, confess

Resisting is in vain. We know that the more you resist, the more you want to punch. Controlling is impossible because the penis is uncontrollable. What is controlled is the mind. The way to surrender is surrender.

The more surrendered we are to our fucking, the better our lives. If surrender is to understand the power of the penis and come to terms with it. When you stop quarreling with your will to punch and come to a common denominator despair passes. That's why it's important to surrender. Not a bad thing. It's a good thing.

Many say that by surrendering and surrendering we will lose control. But nobody loses something they never had. Your struggle with your penis is increasing your will. In the sexual field the penis is expert and you will always lose. You have to be friends with him and come to an agreement.

You need to confess your surrender. Declare your will, your desire and your love for your pike. When you do this, you begin to see things as they are and it becomes easier to work out what your masturbatory journey will be like. To confess that we are glazed on our dicks is liberating. It takes a soul weight and makes us light. Taking on this hobby is fantastic. Confessing who we are, masturbators, fucking punchers, broadens our understanding. It is as if to say: - Yes! I'm a puncher and now how can I live with it? How can I adapt this to my life without harming myself?

And from there the penis comes in agreement with you. The question is not stop, because trying to stop is in vain and the will will return 1000x stronger.

To confess, surrender and surrender is the way to a new and wonderful life. Lighter and quieter.

Choosing Your Phallic Name

The phallic name is the name that the masturbator assumes during the masturbatory sessions, when he is among the brothers or performing his phallic rituals. It is a power name that represents the dominance of your penis over it. The phallic name brings out our lyrical self, that is, our unconscious self. When we assume a phallic name it is as if another I were taking over. The phallic name eases our phallic connection and invokes our personal power. The phallic name also preserves us when we are among brethren that we do not know yet. It is also used in the signing of texts and writings. The phallic name is usually chosen as we masturbate. Usually he is chosen after hours at the masturbating fin, in intense cycles of goon and edge. It is at this moment that we feel and hear an inner voice saying our name. This voice is the voice of our unconsciousness. It is not a spirit or something, but our unconscious talking to us and presenting that name. We can also choose a phallic name without having to listen to unconsciousness.

Admire the beauty of other spades.

Admire the beauty of other Phallus this has nothing to do with sexuality. If you do not want to acknowledge your fucking dedication, at least understand that you're a fan of spades. You like dick. It looks beautiful to see that living organism hardening, puffing its head, pouring the crystalline drool and exploding into a fucking thing. Yes! You like piroca and it has nothing to do with liking men or women. And as long as you do not admit it or try to lie to yourself, your life will be divided. Take your admiration for spades. It's like finding every other part of the body beautiful and there's nothing wrong with that. Embrace this truth and be happy. No one here will judge you a fucking admirer. Admire, show your love for this phallic member, look at it, keep your mouth watering, collect photos of pirocas, be an expert on pica and above all be happy.

Fire and kundalini

When we masturbate we light a fire inside us. This fire is the mystical fire, the spark of life that nourishes and renews our body. This fire heats the energy and boosts upward, up the Kundalini-charged column and explodes as vital energy throughout our body. This fire keeps us alive, alert, young, ready to express itself positively in the universe. Keeping this fire burning is essential to man. Our vitality comes from this fire. A person who does not have this heated fire between his legs lives a sad, dull, dark life. That's why it is common to see celibates always grumpy and cranky because they do not have the joy and vitality of this fire. Masturbation goes beyond fun is also health.

Perversion, Fury, the Black Penis and Black Magicians

The perversion is nothing more than the sexuality in point of fury. For a long time mankind learned to be afraid of this word. Tantra says that everything can be used for enlightenment if you know how to channel energy. When very repressed sexuality accumulates and breaks, it manifests itself in the form of perversion. Perversion is sexual fury. This rage is not something that should be ignored or hidden, but analyzed and lived consciously, that is, wake up. Perversion is the fury of the penis. This fury is the destroying fire. This fire consumes and destroys everything to make room for the new. In this way, when the masturbator lives the perversion he depletes all the old, stuck, old, stagnant energy to make way for the new. It is very common for those who masturbate to pervertly feel tired and exhausted. Many fall asleep due to exhaustion. However, this practice should not be used by beginners, as perversion or fury is a very intense energy and those who are not properly prepared can confuse things and be absorbed by it becoming what Tibetan Buddhists call "black wizards". Black wizards are masturbators who only practice perversion.

There are masturbatory sessions that are dedicated only to perversion, that is, to fury. But how to identify the fury of the penis?

Do you know when we're punching that punch with all the force, the anger, the fury? Have you seen videos of guys masturbating with intensity as if your dick was going to explode? This is fury. This is perversion. This fury when channeled can be very useful in day-to-day life. Fury is associated with Shiva the destroyer. All the energy of destruction is associated with it.

For the practice of fury some care should be taken to avoid using drugs, using condoms if you are masturbating with a fucking brother. The use of songs such as rock or electronic music are advised. Everything so that the practice is beneficial and not harmful. It is important to emphasize that perversion has nothing to do with putting our body at risk.

Perversion must be experienced by all masturbators. We carry the fury inside our penis and this fury must be alive. Fury is our driving force. It is the energy of the warrior that makes us into true phallic lords. It is the active energy that drives us forward. Do not be afraid to be a pervert. Use this perversion in the right direction and for the necessary purposes.

Perversion is also known in the form of a large black piroca, representing the hidden powers of the penis that reveals our most hidden and perverted desires. Many aspects of perversion celebrate the black cock.

The perversion is important in the life of the masturbador, because it shows us our desires and fetishes more hidden. Those we never revealed in a normal fuck. And the perversion that reveals these desires so that we can make an analysis and transformation. As we look at them we can identify the points that need to be changed or improved.

No fury and perversion. Without the black stick there is no transformation.

Lust is essential

Lust has already been widely criticized in the past, but discovering that it can be a great ally in human life. Like tantra, I believe that everything can be used for evolution and lust would not be left out of it. Lust is extreme desire, overflowing pleasure, throbbing throbbing, pure pleasure through the body. Obviously when used in an exacerbated way it can harm us, but knowing how to use it can be a great ally.

That's because lust according to scientists can improve our relationship with the world to make us sharper, more attentive and more awake. The lusty person is smarter than the others because his brain can solve analytical problems more easily than other individuals.

In addition, lust stimulates the disposition side to prove itself useful. As he is always trying to prove fit and attractive to the opposite sex, it becomes natural to develop more helpful behavior.

Finally, the research makes clear that sin is not a sign of evil, since sex stimulates love and dealing with relationships and their problems.

Lust is essential in the life of the masturbator. Unlike other philosophies, he should not only seek ascension but also pleasure, so there will be sessions that are intended only for pleasure, perversion and lust, and others for training, development, personal growth, and ascension.

The three-headed penis

The figure of the three-headed penis is a metaphorical figure full of meanings. It represents the nature of the penis. The penis on the left represents fury. The penis on the right represents fire. And the middle penis represents balance. Fury represents the hidden, indomitable, wild and primitive side of the penis. The black stick. Fire represents light, fire, energy in activation, the generation of life, the sun, the penis in full activation. And balance represents the junction of the two heads resulting in the circle with a point in the middle, as seen on top of that penis. This circle represents the expansion, the universe, the infinite in balance, the penis mind. But below we see the snake swallowing itself. It represents the oruoros and Kundalini. The lotus flower that supports the three-headed penis represents reality, materialization, and the man who carries the penis. Japamala represents meditation, concentration and mental focus during masturbation.

Alchemy Phallica

Phallic Alchemy is the study of the energy flow in the penis and how these elements act in the phallic body. Thus it is possible to work better the forces, increasing the pleasure and directing the energies.

The five elements manifest themselves in the phallic body of base (sack) upwards. The sac is the base of the penis and so the earth element is dominant. Inside the bag are the balls. Producers of sacred nectar, the balls store the liquid of pleasure. In this way, the balls are impregnated by the water element. Following from the base to the top we have the stem. The walking stick. It is he who receives our hand where we stir in a ritualistic movement of going-and-coming. This movement warms and warms the phallic body. This friction attracts the fire element. It is the fire element that heats the sacred nectar inside the balls, making it rise through the canal of the urethra and reaching the glans with the sacred shed. The great one expands and inflates to pour the holy liquid causing the masturbator to enter into a state of complete orgasmic grace. On the glans is the air element. But there is a fifth element. The ether element. The ether element manifests itself in orgasm, goon, trance and sexual esctasi. In this way we can see all the elements acting at the moment of masturbation.

Physically we can also see the elements manifesting. You are with earth element stabilized by standing, with legs open or not, in a comfortable position. The fire element is active through the manipulation of your hands. It has stabilized water element because it is drooling and sweating. It has air element regulating the breath. And it's with Ether element in goon and receiving multiple orgasms. Obviously this is my reading of alchemy. There are many other penile maps. Many historical and millenarian. These maps help us to better understand the workings of energies.

The movement of the five elements forms the processes of "generate, construct and materialize". The base of the penis is the generating part. Everything is generated there. The stalk is the building part. And the glans is the materializing part, bringing the sacred truncheon.

All of this is involved in phallic triads (physical and abstract). The abstract triad are: Sperm, précum and urine. The physical triad are: Talo, Glande, Balls.

The Phallic Veneration

When I venerate my penis I celebrate my Masculinity. Phallic worship is a cult of personal, intimate and inner integration of self. The phallic unity brings human unity. Man becomes one.

No divisions and with that without barriers. So all the barriers and limits fall because it absorbs these barriers, dissolving them and transforming in their part. Thus the phallic cult gives man the opportunity to be one with all beings, to awaken his sexuality, to approach his masculinity and to be absorbed by the sacred Masculine. Phallic veneration demands nothing. He does not ask you to give up your religiousness and even cancel it, but add the phallic cult to it. When I venerate my penis I venerate the sacred Male that dwells in me.

Phallic veneration unlocks the libido, raises the soul, awakens the consciousness and improves our mood.

When cock is hard, erect, pointed up, we can see all the beauty and splendor. Our eyes are drawn to its beauty and we are left as if hypnotized. There is in phallic veneration a union and a loss of identity among those who are venerated and venerated. In phallicism, just as in sex, the figures are united and confused.

Phallic veneration is a celebration of the self. Every man directly or indirectly venerates his cock. Men have a fascination for their penis. They dispute who has the greatest, who enjoys further, is proud of his member and this is veneration. They like to touch one in front of the mirror, seeing their thick, swollen cock being masturbated. They like to take off that nude and send it to the other as a trophy, a tribute to be worshiped. They like to use it for blackmail with their partners. They like to see that velvet mouth sucking. They like to see your partner with that petite puppy face begging for his pica. That is veneration. An unconscious veneration, but it is a veneration. But veneration can be much more intense when done consciously.

When we understand the importance, benefits and joy of venerating our penis and that of others our lives are transformed. Venerating each other's cock is the key to the connection. We become much stronger when we venerate our spades together. When we show our coats to one another we create a connection, a mystical sexual force that surrounds us. Admiring our brother's dick is an opportunity. We can go further and plunge into veneration by masturbating one another. As we touch each other's pikes, we exchange our energies more intensely. To suck a dick or talk. The contact of the tongue with the softness of a scroll is "touching the sky". Drinking our brother's holy fucking is a sign of humility, brotherhood and blessing. Feeding our brothers and sisters with the holy shit is a sign of charity and consideration for a brother desirous of milk from a sack. Making a sword fight is to potentiate sexual energy. And the touch of the glans is the great phallic kiss that awakens love and lust.

Thus phallic veneration is much more than religion. Actually it is not religion, but connection with our inner self, connection with our brothers and connection with the universe and the sacred masculine. Worship your dick! Venerate your brother's cock! Ave Penis!

We are sexual

Our sexuality does not matter anymore. We are what the penis wishes. We satisfy the wants of our penis and no matter what we like. In fact we do not know what we are anymore. Gays, straight men, bisexuals, nothing like that. We are sexual. We have no preference. Preference is the penis who determines. If it's your ass or pussy, it does not matter. Many are now feeling a crazy craving for pica even being straight. This is normal. That desire was always in you, but the social barriers kept you from enjoying it. But now you know that you have an uncontrollable desire for piroca. You love pica, your mouth fills with water just thinking. You imagine your friend naked. He's always making an excuse to see him naked. She loves talking about sex and would bitch with other men. Your dream is to hit one with your street friend (if you have not already hit one). But the taste of the pussy still floats in your mind. If you put a piece in front of you you eat without ceremony. You are not gay, bi or straight. You're what your penis sends. Sexual is the best definition. Fucking, masturbator, fucking punch, glazed on the pica, hungry for rolls. Does not matter. You are what your penis wishes and that is good. Live this life without labels. No one needs to know. Kiss all mouths and do not mind if you have a beard or lipstick. Do not fight it.

We Are Sexual - Part 2 Exploring the Prostate

If your ass blinks when you see the pica eating the pussy in the porn video, what's the problem? Feel it blink, slide your finger while masturbating. Insert your finger gently. Feel your prostate. Massage. It is your finger and not a stranger. Start by putting a finger. Only in the door. The second time, more accustomed, it sputters and tries to put two. With one hand he punches his cock and the other massages his ass. All this seeing a good straight porn. If I preferred a bisexual. It's always good to try new things. What does it cost? After all you are sexual, without definition, without label, without limits. Feel the pulse. Look how lighter you are, the pleasure is bigger. His mind expanded. You see the body now differently. He discovered a new way of feeling pleasure. He's pushing those fingers into your ass, moist, spit, well oiled. He opens it slowly and every time he dilates you feel more pleasure. Let your fuck fuck your ass too. When you cum, spread it on your ass, in your ass, and feel this hot fuck lubricate your hole. You are now a sexual. Enjoy it. Explore a new dimension in your life.

Today I

Today I understand the nature of the penis. Today I understand the nature of masturbation. Today I understand why I am a man and what the purpose of it all is. Today I do not masturbate just by masturbating. It goes much further and so it is much more pleasurable. Today sex is a tool for my development, my growth and my ascension. Today I am much more aware of my self, of my penis, of my place in the universe, of my place in society and of people's places. Today I understand society and its system much more. Today everything is clearer for me and so I can assume my role as protagonist of the world. Today I am no longer taken, but I am prepared and conscious to lead, lead and influence society. Today I am one.

Conservatives - Useful idiots

Let the hypocrites speak. Let the false moralists and conservatives speak. Only then will we know what is going on in their minds and only then can we guide their thoughts to where we wish. A conservative is leading by emotion and provocation. They are not rational. They live in a fairy tale, in a reality that does not exist. They want a perfect but impossible world.

Let them shout their prejudices and watch your thoughts. From there guide them. As? Plant false information. Let think that something is of the devil. Stop being frightened by the ideological monsters they created. Instead of fighting, feed your ideas so that you are trapped in your own thoughts, so that they stop in time and do not keep up with the advancement of society and technology.

A conservative is a useful idiot. Use their ignorance and guide them in any direction you want. If they are against education in schools, allow them to be educated at home in order to isolate themselves from society. They fund puppet churches so they can give their money to them. Fund religious leaders to pray for our primer. And do not be surprised if those leaders are the most "holy and immaculate". Say that something good is evil to keep you from moving away. Manipulate them by means of your own evil, prejudices, hatred, etc. Discover your adulteries, your extra-marital homoaffectional relationships, your addictions. And at any glide of them expose them. Conservatives always hide their sins. Discover and expose. In time they will decrease.

While we progressives, let us do the opposite. Strengthen your mind, train your body and your spirit. Look for the quality of life. Study about everything. Become a scholar. Create a wide network of contacts. Occupy strategic positions in society. Help your brothers and those inclined to progress (even conservatives with signs of improvement). Invest in technology. Reduce your prejudices and open your mind. Assist in the construction of a new order in the world. More fair, more egalitarian, more fraternal. Support progressive causes and movements such as feminism, gender equality, color, and reduction of social inequalities. Invest in environmental preservation. And work for the promotion of conscious sexual freedom. Fight for a world one, on a single flag.

We are a legion

We are a legion

Of hard and swollen sticks

Vieudos and boludos

Purple and polished

That we masturbate without stopping Constantly
We have the secret revealed to our cock

We have the drool of a deep Goon We have the precum of a mighty Edge We are a legion of men

Who are engaged in the language arts

And they adopt the chronic life

Repetitive and constant

That brings us pleasure and knowledge We are a legion of hard dicks Pointed up

Getting all the energy of Phallus greater Our penises are in constant dedication Thick, swollen, shaken and hairy Our tongue always out

Our always drooling dick

Our legs always open

In reverence and respect

We are a legion

That attracts more and more each day

More pirocas

Hard

Ready to masturbate

Constantly

Often

Thoughts

1) The penis of man must be inside the mind. You should have the penis in mind, masturbating you mentally, even when you are not punching your cock. So the pleasure lingers on and it leaves you constantly at peace and quiet, with waves of endorphins standing in your brain. Therefore, masturbators are men of the peace, because the power of his spades constantly release this wave of pleasure that relaxes and gives us clarity that war is not worth it, just the wank. The more you masturbate, the more your penis will pop into your mind, the more you will be connected. The more you masturbate this whole pussy, the more your fucking will reward you. Go ahead, masturbate and go into Goon.

2) Find in your penis a world of possibilities. Extravaze, surrender, be yourself. Explore your deepest desires while you masturbate, strangely enough, if you discover yourself, if you know it. Find in the penis a universe and delicious sensations.

Babe, whisper, groan, howl, rummage, rebole, do what you want and let the penis dominate you, get involved in this universe. Allow the penis to dominate your mind as you hit that jack as you've never hit before and be awarded the deepest orgasm. Let your penis take you deeper into the world of sexual feelings and explode with pleasure. Be a penis.

3) Surrender to the power of the penis. Have no fear. Surrender. Allow your cock to take over. Let him express himself, as if he were alive. Absorb all energy, as if it were attracting the whole universe to you, the cosmos, the stars, the light. Allow yourself to surrender. When you surrender, you make your penis alive, bright and more exciting. Your penis will seduce you, you will be completely hypnotized by it and will plunge into Goon, drooling over and under.

4) Do not ejaculate! Save your fucking and boost your horny. When we punch our cock and do not throw it to spit, we keep our fucking, but we also raise the level of our horn. The horn is the life force of the masturbator and when we increase this force we can reach multiple orgasms without ejaculating. Over time we will get the practice and the penis will get used to being masturbated for much longer. Keep your fucking bag. The fucking needs to stay in the bag and you have to squirm hard. This force will be transmuted into the Goon, meaning all this accumulated horn will be raised to the last power and you will experience Bliss: Unlimited happiness. You masturbate among other reasons to produce fucking in the bag, leaving it heavy and shaken. Leave that fucking coarse, sloppy like a phlegm inside your heavy balls.

5) Let the stick hammer in your mind. Let him masturbate his thoughts! Consume Negative Ideas, Enjoy Within You! Accept the goon as a philosophy of life. Live always masturbated.

Reboot for Masturbators

Reboot is a reprogramming for masturbators. With this frame guide the masturbator can improve your skills and train your fucking and your mind. It is always important to remember that the training should be comfortable, with lubricant use or not and at the slightest sign of discomfort stop immediately.